Pledging Dates And Rules Set Up

The fall semester pledging dates have been set up by the I.C. Interfraternity Council, and all campus fraternities and sororities must abide by them, according to IFC president, Frank Romano.

Bids to prospective members must be in by Thursday, October 29, and the "silence period", which will begin on that date, will be in effect until November 2, the first day of pledging.

The pledging period should be completed no later than December 13.

The following sections of the IFC constitution are reprinted for emphasis.

"First semester freshmen are not eligible for bids. Only students who have been at Ithaca College for at least one full semester may receive bids.

"No organization may extend a bid to a student who is on probation, or who has not attained at least a 'C' average for the semester immediately preceding the date the bid is to be extended.

"No bid may be issued by any member or any organization by word of mouth, directly, or indirectly by hints or by implication without placing the offender's penalties as may be levied by the council.

"All organizations must observe the faculty request that no improper dressing or activities that make pledges conspicuous shall be carried on outside of organization houses. No activity that is dangerous to a pledge may be engaged in at any time."

College Offers Series of Evening Courses

Ithaca College will present a series of evening courses for business and professional workers and for teachers. These courses will be held for the fall semester and registration will be completed tomorrow.

The entire program is under the direction of Dr. William M. Grimshaw, Director of graduate studies and extension education.

A course in "Insurance for Agents and Brokers" is being taught by Mr. Robert L. Boothroyd. The first session of this course opened last week. The course aims to train persons for state licensing examination as an insurance agent or broker. Classes in this course will be held twice a week for 16 weeks.

Tax Course Begun

Professor Frank Kolmin, Chairman of the Department of Economics and Business began instruction in "Federal Income Tax" last Monday. Dr. Kolmin will also teach "Cost Accounting and Control" beginning tomorrow at 7:00 p.m.

Other courses being offered include "Operation of Audio-Visual Equipment taught by Edward Moy of the Ithaca Public Schools, and "Problems in Minority Group Re-

200 Attend four Day Frosh Camp; College Orientation Period Over

by Don Roberts

With the opening of I.C.'s freshman camp, September 17th, 1959, approximately 200 freshmen began their college lives. Frosh camp ran from September 17th-20th, and was followed by an orientation program which started on the 21st of September and ended on the 25th.

Upperclassmen, as well as Frosh enjoy themselves at Introductory dance held last Monday at the Aurora Street Gymnasium. The dance was sponsored by the College Varsity Club.

The camp was officially opened with the arrival and registration of the new students. After the students were settled, introductory speeches were given by Mrs. Hood, associate professor of Zoology and director of frosh camp. Mr. Green associate professor of Physical Education and Dean Clarke.

On Friday Mrs. Rowland, chairman of the History Department, and Dr. Harcourt, associate professor of English, talked to the new students on various aspects of college life. The various clergy of Ithaca then discussed the religious programs offered to students attending Ithaca College.

That evening a talent show was presented by each of the "cabins" of frosh camp.

President Speaks

Dr. Hickman, Dean of the College of Arts and Sciences, and president Howard I. Dillingham spoke to the freshmen on Saturday. After Dr. Dillingham's speech, the Deans introduced their respective faculty members. A coffee hour followed the introductions.

In the afternoon, the Freshmen attended the I.C.-Brandeis football game at South Hill. An informal dance was held later that evening at the camp's main lodge.

MacInnes coordinator

A program for all entering students was held at the College during September 21st-25th. Faculty coordinator for the orientation program was Dr. John B. MacInnes. Dr. MacInnes is an associate professor of History. Hal C. Yingling, Jr., associate professor of Biology, is the freshman class advisor. Both are on the faculty in the College of Arts and Sciences.

On Monday morning, the new students of the College of Arts and Sciences met with Dean Hickman; the School of Music students met with Dean McHenry, and the School of Health and Physical Education—including divisions of Physical Therapy—met with Dean Morgan.

At these meetings, the students received an explanation of the testing program that was to start that morning and continue through the afternoon.

Convocation held

Later that evening, a convocation for all freshmen and transfer students. In the evening, an address was given by president Howard I. Dillingham in the college theater.

After the convocation, an informal dance was held for the new students at the Aurora St. gym. The dance was sponsored by the Varsity Club.

Tuesday morning testing continued for the students of the College of Arts and Sciences. In the afternoon, Dean Clark spoke to the new students. The topic of his speech was, "The Relationship Between The Dean of Students and The Freshman."

Later in the afternoon, a meeting was held in the college theater. Dean Hickman explained the col-

Wives' Club to Sponsor Contest

The student wives club of Ithaca College is sponsoring a Fight Song Contest. The contest is open to all the members of the student body.

A fight song should be composed as to instill school spirit into the students during athletic events and rallies.

A cash prize will be awarded for the best song. The contest deadline is October 13 with the award to be given at the Cortland football game on October 17.

Judges for the contest will be Warren Bensen and Walter Beeler of the Music department and Dr. Earl E. Clarke, Dean of Students.

Entries may be placed in the contest box in the library. Original melodies will receive special consideration, but songs need not have them.

Sounding off

From the beginning of the school year, the traditional Beanie Problem has been relatively limited in contrast to other school years. So far most of the freshmen have cooperated and have observed the regulations. Unfortunately, however there has been a small group of upperclassmen who have abused their privileges. Apparently these upperclassmen still enjoy acting like high school students.

According to the regulations, Any Junior or Senior may ask any freshman to "sound off". In "sounding off", the freshman should give his name, home town, department and dormitory. Frosh, however, are NOT required to answer any other questions if they do not wish to do so.

Traditionally, the beanie is a means of identification. This enables other students and faculty members to recognize the new students, and it gives freshmen the opportunity to meet the other members of his class.

On freshmen registration day, a majority of the freshmen interviewed thought that the beanie was a good idea and that the class of 1963 was brought a little closer together in its new and strange surroundings through this means of class identification.

According to the Student Council regulations, the beanies are to be worn from 7:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M. Monday through Saturday everywhere outside of the dormitories until Friday evening, October 16.

While the Freshman Class has supported the school traditions better than many of its recent predecessors, it is our hope that the class spirit will continue and that the class of 1963 will set many examples for future classes to follow.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

I feel that the school insurance plan should not be compulsory. This is especially true in the case of married students. I can cite myself as an example. At the present time I am carrying one life insurance policy plus the Blue Cross and the Blue Shield plans. It is hard enough to pay these three policies and all my expenses for school without having another inurance policy dropped in my lap. I heartily recommend that this compulsory insurance plan be withdrawn.

THE QUESTION:

Anyone reading this column for the first time will probably be interested in knowing why a paper like The Ithacan will take its valuable space and allot it to a column of this one's apparent quality?

THE MESS:

The purpose of this column is to give a brief insight into the doings of various campus organizations, to probe into bits and scraps of helpful information, to comment on people, places, and college life in general, and to illustrate the opinions and ideas of students and teachers alike on subjects ranging from A to W with X - Y and Z thrown in for good measure.

YOU CAN HELP:

This column exists on information and suggestions from the student body. Any information will be welcomed. Just drop it in the "As I. C. it" box in the Ithacan office.

WEEKEND DATES:

According to Gregg Aversa, the coordinator for Fall weekend, the weekend will be held on October 16, 17 and 18.

NEW ADDRESSES:

Anyone changing their school address is asked to notify the Bursars Office.

HOUR CHANGES:

The Ithaca College Infirmary has announced that it will be closed between the hours of Noon and 1:00 P.M., and 5:00 P.M. and 6:00 P.M. daily. Anyone going to the infirmary is asked to avoid going during these dinner hours if it is at all possible.

BLAZERS:

The Womens Athletic Association will be sponsoring its annual Blazer sale in the Annex Lounge on Monday, October 5, between the hours of 10:00 A.M. and 2:00 P.M.

DANCE:

Hillel Club of Ithaca College will hold a dance on Sunday, Oct. 4, from 8 to 10:30 p.m. in Temple Bethel Assembly Hall, located at Court and Tioga Streets.

For further information, contact Ruben Marshall.

Personality of the Month

The Ithacan Salutes . . .

. . . Jack Cantwell, R-Tv, '60

The Ithacan this month salutes an outstanding student and personality at Ithaca College—Jack Cantwell.

Jack is a senior in the Radio and Television Department and will graduate in January. In his years at Ithaca College, he has been active in various school affairs and has made many friends—old friends that remember him as a serious and capable television director one time, and as a comic character with an arrow through his hat the next, and new friends that he met at Frosh Camp where he managed so well the job of co-director this September.

Born in Pennsylvania

Pennsylvania was his original home and later he moved to Illinois for high school and two years of college. Abandoning his experiment as a chemistry major at Franklin and Marshall, Jack went into the service. The army took him to Korea for security work. Jack can speak and write Korean.

His next jump was Toyko. There he found an opportunity to revive his previous college interest in theater as a member of an acting group that did a long successful run of The Diary of Anne Frank. This play was a very important factor in Jack's life. Perhaps it was influential in his choice of what major field to pursue.

TV Director

At any rate, it has continued to bring him recognition at Ithaca—as an actor in the Green Room production and as a television director in his own production of The Diary.

Last year Jack worked as cameraman for the Dr. Harcourt show and was promoted to assistant director for the Dr. Ogden show. Of course, he was practically everything at one time or another on Showcase. Dean Dean in Scampers, Pledge Master of Delta Kappa, and member of the Ithacan staff were among his other activities. And he managed good grades.

Graduates in January

This will be Jack's last semester at Ithaca College. Already he has done his field training in advertising and television and already he has "programmed" Frosh Camp.

He will assist the director on a new TV show "Teen Jury", and will act as Historian for DK.

Advertising or programming is what Jack plans to do in the future. It will be a big semester for Jack and we hope a big future.

KEN MURRAY

THE TWO ITHACAS

Often in the excitement of getting ready for another school year, we, the students of Ithaca College, tend to forget that we are blessed by the privilege of attending college in a beautiful city, Ithaca.

We also tend to forget that when we, the students of Ithaca College, and others like us from a neighboring institution of higher education, invade this peaceful little town each Fall, we bring with us a hustle and bustle and confusion and chaos that is unknown to the natives of this little central New York community in the good old Summer time.

The fact is that Ithaca in the Summer is far, far different from Ithaca in the Winter, (also Ithaca in the Spring and Fall).

Ithaca in the Summer is the equal of any city in the country. People come here for rest. People come to enjoy the wonderful scenic beauty of the countryside. People come here to get away from it all. In fact Ithaca in the Summer compares favorably with the best resort areas in the state, and is, in fact, much the same as it was in the days when life was less complicated and there were no atom bombs and automobiles and airplanes and rockets.

Yes, Ithaca, in the summer of 1959, has changed only outwardly from the good old days. There is still that spirit in the town that prompted the noted late nineteenth century historian K. Robert O'Murray to say, "This beautiful hamlet (Ithaca), nestled as it is among rolling hills, and gracing the shore of a large and beautiful lake, is indeed a shining gem." Now, Mr. O'Murray was no one to exaggerate. He meant what he said. He was undoubtedly impressed with our fair city. He was impressed with the city that lives on in spirit here in the quiet and peaceful Summer time. But, alas, Mr. O'Murray, maybe you would flip over in your bed of shamrocks if you could see Ithaca in 1959 in the Winter (and Spring and Fall).

This Ithaca, which is far different from the summer Ithaca, is a town that offers little quiet and often affords a minimum of peace. This Ithaca is rollocking and rocking and rolling and doing just about everything that the other more subdued Ithaca does not do. It is an Ithaca that works hard, studies hard (there seems to have arisen a certain doubt in the minds of some as to the validity of the last statement), above all, plays hard.

This is the Ithaca of the weekends and parties, and classes, and weekends and parties. This is the Ithaca that defies the claims that Milwaukee was the city that made all those beers famous. (Or was it that they were supposed to have made Milwaukee famous. I never did get that straight.) Anyway, this is the city where that challenges whatever the claim is. This is the Ithaca that improves one's health. I think that in the past couple of years around the middle of September I have noticed a definite improvement in the health of the proprietors of the local bars. All of them seem to get a certain glow in their faces and light in their eyes when they think of the onslaught of new customers that will soon be clamoring for attention in their places of business. Be that as it may, we must face the fact that the Ithaca of the full bars is not the Ithaca of the quiet summer.

We come now to the final question. Which Ithaca is the best? Well, the answer is, of course, up to the individual. The majority of individuals attending Ithaca College, and the other institution of higher learning in the city, undoubtedly prefer the Ithaca of the Winter (and Spring and Fall). However, maybe there are still a few of those hardy souls left who prefer the Ithaca of the Summer. If there are, we can only say to you, "stick together and remember Summer will be here again soon."

Meyers, of Mutual, to Visit Campus

If you are a sophomore, junior or senior following a course of study leading to a degree in the general fields of the arts or sciences, you may be planning a career in business.

The big question is, "Upon graduation with what business and with which company should I associate myself?" Two further considerations are, "Will I really enjoy what I am asked to do?" and "Can I do successfully the things which are asked of me?"

All the questions you may ask, conversations you may have, and research you conduct can't answer these questions satisfactorily. Only experience can assure a man that he will really like what he chooses and that he can be eminently successful in it.

Apprenticeship Helpful

This obvious conclusion was reached many years ago in the medical and legal professions and was the basic reason for the system of internship and clerkship which are peculiar to these careers. These periods of practical apprenticeship are, of course, largely responsible for the high incidence of lasting success which mark the medical and legal professions.

One of the outstanding internships in business is offered by the Provident Mutual Life Insurance Company. The first life insurance company to adopt such a plan on a broad scale, the Company began its initial work in this field in 1952. Since that time, Provident Mutual has widened its operation to cover forty colleges and universities across the United States.

To Discuss Program

Your first interview will be with a supervisor from one of the Company's agencies. He will discuss in detail the way the program can fit into your own particular schedule. Some of the major things he will want to discuss with you are:

1. How much of time will this take?
2. Will I have to give up other activities?
3. What kind of training will there be?
4. What are the income possibilities?
5. What about summer work?
6. How will I be selected?
7. What happens when I am graduated?

Mr. Meyers, manager of Provident Mutual's Rochester Agency, will be on campus October 29 to select and organize the Ithaca College Campus Unit. Please contact Mrs. Lynch for the time and location of your interview.

DID YOU KNOW THAT: I.C.'s Mel Giarolo was named to the District 2 NCAA all-star baseball team. He made it as a left-fielder. . . Skip Lyne, an infielder from Bound Brook, N. J., led the frosh hitters last season with a .340 average. . . I.C. lost to Penn State in the District 2 finals of the NCAA tourney last June, 7-3, after it had nipped the University of Pittsburgh, 4-3, in the semi-finals. . . Bob Graham hit and hurled the Bombers to the 11 inning victory. He scattered eight hits and struck out 10 in a sterling performance. . . The Bombers won that one by virtue of a home run in the 11th. . . Who hit it? . . You guessed it—Graham, himself. . . The 1959 Bombers finished their sked with a 15-2 won-lost record.

HOW ABOUT THAT DEPT.: Ithaca's team batting average for 17 games was a lousy .351. . . Stosh Borow, the peppery little second baseman, led all the hitters with a .480 average, with 36 for 75. . . Shortstop Wil Chabot had 22 for 51 for a .431 average. . . Mel Giarolo cracked 27 for 65 to hit .415. . . Other batting averages were; Joe Materile, .371; Perry Noun, .367 (Perry led the squad in '58 with .409); Al Cain, .298, Bob Hoyt, .288; and Brian Mee, .283.

STATISTICALLY SPEAKING: Giarolo and Hoyt tied for team leadership in homers with three each. . . Giarolo was also the most productive Bomber with 26 RBI's in 17 games. . . Borow's 36 hits led in that department. . . Bob Carty, junior portsider from Hyderville, Vt., led the pitchers with a 2-0 record, and a remarkable E.R.A. of 0.00 (And you can't get any lower than that). . . Bob Graham was undefeated in five decisions, Rich Slomkowski was 5-1, and Basil Curry, who led the team in strikeouts with 61 in 40 innings, was 3-1.

DURING THE SUMMER: Graham, Slomkowski, Materile, Noun, and Curry inked pro contracts. . . Graham was with Burlington of the Class B Three-I League, Curry with with Guelph, a Canadian team; Slomkowski was with Fresno of the Class C California league, Noun was with the Chicago Cubs organization, and Materile was with Pensacola of the Class D Alabama-Florida league. . . Materile, a durable first baseman with a strong right arm, received an estimated 5,000 green ones to sign with the Orioles. . . Slomkowski made an impressive debut with a four hit calcimine job over Modesto. . . Ken Slater, who caught for the 1958 frosh team, had a good year with the Auburn Yankees of the NY-P league. . . Ken reportedly hit .272 after an early season slump kept him around the .220 mark. . . Andy Scerbo also had a fine year with the play for pay boys in a Class D southern circuit. . . Andy starred at short stop for the 1958 College varsity.

I. C. WILL HAVE: a new frosh football coach in Vincent J. Messina, of Bowling Green State U., Ohio. . . This season will also see a "Captain-system" being used by the gridiron eleven. . . Devised by Coach Dick Lyon, co-captains will be appointed before each game. . . Selection will be based on performances during the previous game. . . The team, itself, will elect honorary co-captains at the end of the season. . . Lyon innovated the idea when John Fasolino, elected captain for this year, was shelved with a knee injury sustained in last year's Cortland game.

LET'S ALL GET out to that Brockport-I.C. game Saturday at South Hill. That Big Cortland game is scheduled for Saturday, October 17. . . Cortland was the only team to defeat I.C. on the gridiron last year, when it scored two early TD's, and salvaged a 16-6 victory. . . Phil Leibrock has the unenviable task of holding down the tough center-half slot on the soccer squad this year. . . Phil follows two all-time I.C. greats at center-half, Pete Sands, '58, and Joe Drum, '59. . . The soccer squad's next home game is Fri., October 16. . . It will meet a formidable opponent in Syracuse U. . . Isadore (Doe) Yavits will again serve as head coach.

Ithaca ball carrier heads for TD in College's 58-8 victory over Brandeis.

Bombers Face Brockport

The Ithaca College Bombers will attempt to get back on the plus side of .500 this Saturday when they play Brockport State at South Hill.

The College grid eleven showed an impressive ground attack, as well as a better than average aerial game in its 58-8 romp over Brandeis two weeks ago, but was stalled almost completely last Saturday night by an underated East Stroudsburg, (Pennsylvania) squad.

Game time Saturday is 2 p.m.

MORGAN APPOINTED DEAN OF PHY ED DEPARTMENT

by Joan Bennett

Cecil W. Morgan of Springfield College has been appointed dean of the School of Health and Physical Education at Ithaca College.

For the last six years he has been a professor of physical education and director of the rehabilitation program at Springfield.

The new Ithaca College dean will succeed Dean Laurence S. Hill, who died two years ago. Since that time Arnold W. Wilhelm, professor of physical education, has been acting dean.

President Howard I. Dillingham also announced the appointment of Wilhelm as director of physical education.

Morgan received his B.S. degree from Springfield College in 1927; a Master of Education degree in 1939; and a Ph.D. degree at the University of Pittsburgh in 1941.

As a teacher and coach he was at Academy High School, Erie, Pa., then at New Castle, Pa., and after eight years at the University of Pittsburgh, he served with the U.S. Army for nine years.

He was a consultant in the office of the Surgeon General, and later in the "Medical" Reconditioning Center at Garmisch, Germany.

Morgan still serves as consultant for the U.S. Veterans Administration, and frequently visits VA hospitals in the East.

He is a member of the education advisory board for the national office of United Cerebral Palsy.

"Touche, varlets!" cried Altos, skewering four of the King's Enemies like shish kebab upon his gleaming blade. Turning calmly, he watched Pathos and Bathos wrestle the fiendish English archvillain, Lord Half-Nelson, to the floor, and subdue him.

"Well done, rare comrades!" he shouted. "France is saved! Let us go to my aunt's nearby castle, for rest and Schaefer beer."

"Let us retire to the antechambers!" his valiant friends huzzahed. "Schaefer's got a smooth round taste—never sharp, never flat."

The gay blades were taking their ease in the great banquet hall when Skip the Page entered, carrying gleaming silver tankards and a single bottle of Schaefer.

"Hallo! Just one for all?" expostulated Bathos incredulously.

"No, all for one!" exclaimed the greedy Pathos, snatching up the beer.

"En garde, Pathos!" murmured Altos, buckling his swash and reaching for his foil.

"En garde, Pathos!" echoed the noble Bathos.

"Save your steel for the Cardinal's Guards, gentlemen," smiled a youth from the doorway, "and answer this riddle: What d'ya hear in the best of circles?"

"Schaefer all around!" chorused the impetuous trio. "What is your name, O insolence?" asked Altos, advancing on him.

"D. R. Tagnan," the youth responded proudly, throwing open his cloak and revealing the six-pak of Schaefer he carried. "Brave lad!" vociferated the adventurous threesome. "Welcome to our company!"
